

Expressway Unfair to Business Interests South Amarillo

Eight business men from South Amarillo were in Canyon Monday, calling upon business men of Canyon to vote against the proposed bond issue which would impose a heavy tax burden upon property owners of Randall county.

The proposed expressway was planned and is being boosted only by a group of business interests of Amarillo for the benefit of a few large business firms in downtown Amarillo. Real estate operators and small business men in all parts of Amarillo are opposed to the project, according to the group who called at The News office.

It is proposed that the people of Canyon and Randall county shall know the position of the group who are business men on 36th St. in South Amarillo, which is on the proposed route of the expressway.

The group pointed out the fact that Amarillo is not large enough by any means to support an expressway. The population is receding instead of increasing according to the group which opposed the heavy bond issue at the present time.

It was estimated by the group that fully 50% of the people of Amarillo are opposed to the heavy bond issue which will be necessary to build such a fancy highway.

When it comes to the taxpayers of South Amarillo helping pay for the heavy debt of Amarillo and also paying their share of the Randall county part of the expressway, the group was inclined to believe that 70% of the voters of South Amarillo would oppose this bond issue.

"What will Canyon do?" was the question asked time and again by the group.

"We are expecting Canyon, and all farmers of Randall county to help us defeat this proposed expressway," stated one of the group. "We are not opposed to progress, but the State Highway Commission has changed its mind so often that no one knows what it really expects," stated another.

"We are for a four lane highway between Canyon and Amarillo, which may be constructed on the land which is now owned by the state, but we are opposed to giving the State Highway Commission a right-of-way 300 feet wide and a blank check to build a play house. They are trying to tell us that this is going to be a gift from the State. Well, who put up this money? Who is going to pay the taxes necessary to pay the expense? Who has ever heard of the State or the federal government giving us anything free of charge?" asked one of the group.

The fact that Randall county and the city of Amarillo have set the elections on the same day was a very grave error, believed one of the group. When the people of South Amarillo go to the polls and vote in opposition to the Amarillo bond issue, too many will consider that their job is done. Too many will fail to go to the polls a second time and vote a protest vote against the bond issue in Randall County.

"When 36th Street business was developed, let us consider who benefited by this improvement?" asked one of the group. "None other than the city of Amarillo where we live and do business. And Randall county, which is a part of this section of Amarillo." "We built our business upon good faith, and on the promise that the highway was sufficient to take care of future needs of the State and County. Not a single dollar's worth of additional business will be brought to downtown business firms from surrounding territory by this expressway, but now, after we have moved to this section of Amarillo and Randall county, the State makes the veiled threat of moving the expressway and leaving us without the benefit of the business upon which we built our institutions."

"If we grant the State the 300 foot right-of-way along Fillmore Street and 36th Street, not only will business houses be demolished, but scores of homes wrecked for the benefit of the fellows down at Austin who are spending OUR tax dollars without giving US one thing to say how and why it will be spent," was the verdict of the group.

"We have heard a lot about taxation without representation. Yet this is just what the State Highway Commission is attempting to do. Just read the Saturday Evening Post and see what the experience has been in other towns and cities.

The expressway is the brain child of highway engineers who believe in spending the people's money without giving them the benefit of having sense enough to decide what they want." "We are firmly convinced that Randall county voters will vote against the bond issue, which will wreck the economy of this county at a time when every person must use diligence in getting a dollar's value for every dollar invested in public projects. We hope to see The Canyon News come out against this expenditure before the election in May and help us kill this idea just as the people of Wichita Falls turned down the expressway and the voters of San Antonio rejected the $19,000,000 bond issue proposed by the State Highway Commission."

The group of men who visited The News office Monday were not mad at any one, but they were sure in earnest as to their position that the expressway would not help Canyon or the north part of Randall county, but would be a breach of promise by the State when they came into that section of the county to build their businesses.

Hunnicut Resigns For New Position

LAWRENCE HUNNICUTT

With this issue of The Canyon News Lawrence Hunnicutt has resigned his position to accept a position as instructor at the Amarillo Air Base.

Mr. Hunnicutt came to The News 2 1/2 years ago from an Amarillo radio station. He was news editor and feature writer, as well as chasing all kinds of news stories and advertising when needed for such jobs. Also he gave valuable assistance in the mechanical department when needed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunnicutt moved last week into their new home at the east end of Fourth Avenue which was built under a GI grant. They wanted to continue living in Canyon in spite of the fact that his work will be in Amarillo.

No selection has yet been decided upon to fill his position on The News.

228 Votes Cast in Election Saturday

A total of 228 voters turned out to express their gratitude to two members of the school board who were running, unopposed, to succeed themselves in the election Saturday. Election officials reported that most of the voters were unanimous in their desire to return the two men to the school board.

B. E. McCormick and Newton Crain were the two men running for re-election. Because of the fact that there was no opposition, an exceptionally light vote was expected. Although there weren't many votes cast, the number was higher than most people expected.

School board members serve without pay. A heavy vote for the two men seeking to succeed themselves was the only way the public could show its appreciation for the work these men have done and continue to do.

Second Prayer Meeting for Rain Is Held Sunday

"If the people won't turn out better than this, they shouldn't get a rain," one bystander remarked Sunday as he looked about the small crowd gathered for the mass prayer service for rain. Approximately 150 persons were present for the second mass prayer meeting in a series of four scheduled by the Ministerial Alliance in response to a letter from the Carlisle, N. M., Chamber of Commerce to the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

The crowd gathered in the shade of the courthouse to avoid the 90-degree temperature in the sunshine. Rev. Lester L. Hill was in charge of the service.

Five different scriptures were read: The first was from the 26th chapter of Leviticus, beginning with the second verse and going through the fifth verse, "Ye shall keep my sabbath, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord. If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them; then I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit. And your threshing shall reach unto vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto the sowing time; and ye shall eat your bread to the full and dwell in your land safely."

Reverend Hill also read the 8th and 10th verses of the 5th chapter of Job, the 5th and 7th and 8th verses of 147 Psalm, the 6th, 7th and 10th verses of the 55th chapter of Isaiah, and the 15th, 16th, and 17th verses of the 14th chapter of the Acts. He explained that some prayers might not be acceptable in the sight of God because of a selfish desire behind them.

Three persons from three different churches were called upon to pray following a period of mass silent prayer. Rev. Win Matsler, pastor of the First Christian Church, opened the voice prayer. Bill Wilson of the Presbyterian Church offered the second prayer, and the third was given by Mrs. Cecil Sigman of the Methodist Church. Reverend Hill offered the prayer that closed the service.

Mass prayer service next Sunday will be conducted by Rev. A. J. Pettit, pastor of the Assembly of God Church. It will be the third of the four meetings scheduled. Fourth and final service will be held on Easter Sunday. Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services in the final scheduled meeting.

Dietz Will Start Irrigation Pumps

G. A. Dietz was in The News office Friday and stated that he would start irrigation pumps on his farm this week—provided no rain falls.

"I know that the water level is receding and that authorities on irrigation declare that water is being pumped from under the Panhandle faster than it gathers, but likewise I know that irrigation has saved the farmers of Randall county in a time when irrigation was necessary," stated Mr. Dietz.

He is of the opinion that farmers should irrigate their land so long as water is available, and therefore is starting his pumps this week.

"I Flew With Atom Bombers"

A descriptive article in the April issue of Popular Mechanics Magazine by Thomas E. Stimson, Jr., gives a word picture of the new B-36 and how it operates in carrying the atom bomb.

Of particular interest is the picture of Lt. Col. Art Prichard, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Prichard of Canyon, who instructed Stimson in the art of flying.

The bomber carries a crew of 15 men, and the missions sometimes last more than 36 hours. The bombers have a 230-foot span; fly higher than 45,000 feet, at 435 miles per hour. Six pages of the magazine are devoted to the special article on the B-36, and its achievement. Colonel Prichard is shown in three of the illustrations.

"If you know of a child who needs the special services of the Easter Seal Society, please send his name and address to the Randall County Society for Crippled Children, 1006 3rd Avenue, immediately," urged Mr. Gibson.

"As the 1954 Easter Seal appeal goes to so many homes this month, we hope that it may be a means of finding those crippled children who are not receiving adequate care. It is the goal of the Society to reach more and more crippled children in our community and to continue helping those who still need our assistance."

A total of 91.7 per cent of all contributions received in Randall County during the current Easter Seal campaign remain in this state to serve crippled children and adults. The remaining 8.3 per cent will be used to carry out a nationwide three point program of research, education and direct service by the 32-year-old National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

March Building Up to $418,050

Building permits for the month of March climbed to a staggering $418,050. This is almost $400,000 above the permits of February. Only three permits have been issued during each of the three month periods.

The big difference in the total for March came about through the new elementary school building being constructed. This permit alone accounted for $409,000 of the total. One of the other two structures was a garage figured at a cost of $550. March 30, a permit was written for a residence totaling $8,500.

The three permits for the month of February totaled $18,500.

Expressway Vote Will Seal
The Fate of Canyon-Amarillo

As the time draws near and nearer for a vote upon the bond issue for an expressway through Amarillo to Canyon, interest increases throughout Randall County.

Folks are taking sides, some for the bond issue and others against the bond issue. Potter County will not be called upon to vote bonds for the small section of the expressway north of Amarillo on highway 87.

The city of Amarillo and Randall county will bear the major part of the expense.

Last week we gave the opinion of former county judge of Randall County, R. L. Lester, now a member of the city council of San Antonio. He urged Randall county to accept the present plans and to vote the bonds. "You will never be able to buy the property involved at such a low price as it is now held by the owners," stated Mr. Lester, who will be mayor of San Antonio if he decides to accept the job.

Mr. Lester sent us a copy of the San Antonio Sunday Light, which devoted a page to highway construction during recent years.

The first paragraph of this page article reads: "Imaginative highway engineering is changing the face of America. Nothing since the advent of the age of skyscrapers has so drastically altered the shape of cities. Great new, wide divided highways in rural areas, seen from the air, have transformed the countryside. They are America's answer to a dynamic, expanding economy primarily based on the automobile and the truck."

Mr. Lester said to tell the people of Randall county to build the expressway now. He based his opinion on what had been done in San Antonio and what was contemplated for future construction.

The people of Amarillo and Randall county will decide their own destiny. What we shall do in this election may determine the future of both Canyon and Amarillo so far as highway construction is concerned. (But we want more information, just like most voters want, need and demand.)

Prayer For Rain Will Be
Continued by Citizens

We take the position that it will not do any harm for any citizen to do some serious and earnest praying for rain. We are not taking the position that rain will not come, since such a negative position would defeat the very purpose of the prayer for rain.

Citizens of Canyon have banded together for a Sunday afternoon prayer meeting for rain. Those who cannot attend the meeting on the court house lawn may raise their voices in prayer during this time, or at any time.

Citizens often pray for something which they do not need—or at least things which they think they cannot get along without. The Lord and Master of us all knows what is best, and gives those who are His children according to their needs—not according to their wishes.

Regardless of the results, it does not hurt anyone to pray more than most of us pray.

Who Is a Democrat and Who Is a Republican in Congress?

The little State Observer published down at Austin is red hot for any Democrat, regardless!

The paper published an article showing how Texas members of Congress voted on vital issues. The Observer branded as more Republican than Democrat all of those congressmen who supported any of the proposals made by President Eisenhower.

Texas should feel ashamed of men in Congress who were so cowardly as to support only Democratic bills than to go along with the President. Former Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn was shown to have supported not a single bill proposed by the President. But he was listed as having ducked his responsibility by failing to vote upon all but six issues.

We maintain that Rayburn is a shame and disgrace to the people of Texas. He did not have the guts to stand by his guns and vote for bills which he knew were for the good of the nation. He picked only such bills as a majority of the Democrats of Texas opposed in order to cast a vote. While Walter Rogers from this district and other Texas Congressmen, including Lyndon Johnson, Democratic leader, supported the President in a majority of the issues before Congress, the little Austin publication blasted them for placing Americanism above the Democratic party. Rather than blast Democrats for having voted in favor of measures which all Americans approve, regardless of the source of measures, why not try condemning those Congressmen who are so narrow in their views that they refuse to support measures which are introduced and sponsored by members of the opposing party?

Good Top Soil Brought Into
Panhandle by Recent Winds

The Dalhart Texan has figured out the benefits which the Panhandle has received from the dust which has drifted in from Colorado and Kansas. As much as Texans hate dust, it is a real benefit to this area, believes the Dalhart publication.

It has been figured that dust has brought tons of good top soil to the Panhandle. Just what these winds have done to the soil in other sections is hard to estimate.

We shall always remember that soil is soil; and the addition of good, rich top soil is a blessing, regardless of the manner in which it is derived.

Man-Made Depressions Are the Result of Man's Thinking

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing, so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes, so he read no newspapers.

But he sold good hot dogs.

He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were.

He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?"

"There's a depression on."

"The European situation is terrible."

"The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son has been to college."

"He reads the papers and listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders.

Took down his advertising signs.

And no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son," the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Water From the Missouri
River Is An Important Issue

A few weeks ago The Canyon News stated that a local citizen has it figured out that the Panhandle must secure its water supply from the Missouri River if we are to get a permanent and adequate supply. This advocate is T. B. McCarter, who has retired from the faculty of West Texas State, and has time to figure out details for big projects.

Two weeks ago we sat across the table at a Rotary Club luncheon in Amarillo from Bill Askew, who has lived in the Panhandle since 1890. He had just written to President Eisenhower and to Senator Lyndon Johnson advocating the very project which Mr. McCarter has advocated.

A bill has been introduced in Congress seeking a survey to determine the cost of such a project.

Mr. Askew is not opposed to building a series of dams on the Canadian for the purpose of conservation and stopping flood waters in the lower Mississippi River, but he is opposed to spending so much money building one dam for a questionable permanent water supply for the 11 cities seeking adequate water.

You will probably hear much more from this proposed Missouri River project.

Coal Is Essential—But John

Coal is essential for many lines of manufacturing processes.

Many items engage the use of coal, including medicines, plastics and what-nots. Coal must continue to be produced.

There would be no newspapers without coal to furnish the foundation of printers' ink.

You may name a hundred or more items of essential items which must have coal.

However, John L. Lewis and his miners are facing a difficult problem. Practically all of the railroads have quit using coal and have gone all diesel for power. Since John L. has been on a rampage, practically every firm which formerly used coal for fuel has changed to natural gas or oil.

It is reported that the treasury of the miners is running dry. While the pay of this group used to be among the highest of any class of workmen, the men are being laid off so much that overtime has stopped, and the pay rapidly declined.

A few years ago John L. was throwing millions into political campaigns. We have not seen him spending huge sums from the miners' benefit funds.

The goose which laid the golden egg may have turned out to be a do-do.

Farm Equipment Remains High
But Quality Has Improved

As farm prices go down, farmers are inclined to believe that they are being held up by the manufacturers, who are likewise faced with high costs.

One plant man said: "Manufacturing efficiency must and is being improved."

Another replied: "We are doing everything we can think of to cut costs."

A third remarked: "Maybe we should turn out the light and save on electricity while we talk."

Manufacturing plants are trying to give the farmers more for their money with improved machinery. Every manufacturer knows that his dealers want and expect such treatment for their customers.

As for future prospects, it's about as sure as anything can be that farmers will continue to buy as much equipment as their resources will permit. The machine, above all else, is the key to successful, profitable farming.

AUSTIN: All of Governor Allan Shivers' proposals are moving along in the legislature.

Passed by the House Revenue and Taxation committee was the governor's tax measure, levying on beer, franchise taxes and natural gas.

To raise about $25 million a year, the tax is designed to pay for increased salaries for teachers and state employees and for state buildings.

Before passing the committee by a vote of 16 to 4, the tax bill was changed in one particular: instead of a gathering tax, it is an increase on production, from 5.72 to 9.06 per cent of market value at the well.

Also in the House, the appropriations committee reported favorably a bill to spend $10,718,000 for buildings.

In the Senate, the story was the same. Shivers' proposals were being pushed through to enactment.

Finally passed by the upper house was a bill to outlaw Communists.

This measure, which was approved unanimously, provides up to 20 years in prison for members of the party or its branches.

Also finally passed was a bill to increase the pay of state employees by $120 per year. Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton had opposed the measure, which won by a vote of 24 to 5.

Phillips was also the opponent of an $11 million program for state building, but he was the only one to vote against it as the proposal finally passed, 25 to 1.

Also approved by the Senate was the Aikin $24 million proposition to give teachers a pay raise. Vote on this measure was 27 to 1, the opposition coming from Senator William H. Shireman of Corpus Christi.

Shireman's opinion was that the Senate ought not to vote on the additional expenditure for teacher pay prior to the passage of a tax bill in the House. Said the senator: "We don't want to write a hot check, like we did last time."

In the last session of the legislature, a pay raise bill for teachers was passed, but it died because no revenue bill was provided to pay the cost.

There is yet to be some debate before the legislature makes its final decisions.

For example, Representative Joe Burkett of Kerrville protested the proposed 60 per cent increase in corporation franchise taxes.

Difference of opinion also arose in the House in the shape of a bill presented by Representative Charles Murphy of Houston. This bill provides an alternative to the teacher pay raise proposition offered by the governor.

Murphy's bill would give school districts $400 more per year per teacher, but would not entail raising all teachers' pay by that amount. The present $2,402 annual pay minimum would be retained, but extra money would permit merit raises up to $800 per year for any teacher.

There are other provisions in the bill, which Murphy said would give local trustees the opportunity to decide whether they want to accept the increased state allowance along with the greater local responsibility for financing the school program.

Placed in a House deep freeze was the $10 per barrel beer tax offered by Representative Joe Pool of Dallas. In its place, the House committee passed the Governor's suggested tax increase of 63 cents per barrel, bringing the total tax to $2. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen presented the Governor's idea on the $2 tax.

Adjoining states of Louisiana and Oklahoma both tax beer at the $10 per barrel rate, Pool pointed out at a meeting of the House revenue and taxation committee.

A part of the anti-communist legislation met trouble in the form of opposition from religious organizations, three labor groups, and some members of the Senate civil jurisprudence committee.

Objections to setting up a state Loyalty Board of Review, which would deal with suspected Communists, were on the grounds that it would deprive Texans of the right of trial by jury.

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, one of the bill's authors, moved that the measure be sent to a subcommittee for rewriting, and the motion passed.

There were several developments in the Duval County situation:

1. Supreme Court Justice James E. Hickman appointed retired Judge A. S. Lightfoot of Bonham to the 79th District judgeship, replacing District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, who was removed from office.

2. In the Senate, a resolution that state funds be denied Duval County and its two independent school districts was temporarily put aside.

Senator Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock introduced the resolution, which was saved from oblivion by Senator W. H. Shireman of Corpus Christi, a political foe of Duval County's George B. Parr.

Shireman said he had not been consulted about the resolution, but that killing it would permit some factions to say "you endorse what has gone on down there."

3. Attorney General John Ben

Sheppard asked District Attorney Raeburn Norris of Alice to seek an injunction preventing destruction of the Duval County School districts' records.

Checks and vouchers have been destroyed at the end of each year, according to Sheppard's information, but he said that they should be preserved as public records.

Norris promised appropriate action.

4. George Parr was fined $150 for illegally carrying a gun. He paid off in cash.

In county court, a six-man jury had the alternative of fining Parr or sending him to jail for one month to a year. When it was all over, Parr shook hands with County Attorney Sam Burris and said: "I thought you made a darn good argument."

Checks amounting to nearly $11 million were handed to an Austin attorney as the state began repaying funds collected under a gas gathering tax, passed by the last Legislature and declared void by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Still in a suspense fund is about $15 million, which will be refunded to the gas companies as soon as legal procedure can be completed.

Food packages will be sent to drought-stricken West Texas counties, Governor Shivers announced. The State Department of Public Welfare will ship 150 cases of food to Dawson County.

In the same area, highway projects totaling about $3 million are being expedited with the aid of the Texas Employment Commission. Further assistance to dry West Texas may come from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in the form of funds to work against wind erosion.

Col. Garrison also reported that Texas' traffic death toll in 1953 was 5.2 per cent under 1952. Total deaths last year — 2,368.

The reduction gave Texas a 6.4 death rate — lowest in the history of accident analysis in Texas. All of this is in spite of the fact that Texas motorists racked up nearly 1½ billion more miles than during 1952.

Total number of injuries dropped also. The economic loss declined by more than $5 million — to a total of $148,958,000 for the year. Total number of accidents decreased too. December again proved to be the most deadly month of the year.

SHORT SNORTS: John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, urged water conservation in a speech at Corsicana, saying that the state should inaugurate its own program without waiting for the federal government. Governor Shivers said he would personally invite President Eisenhower to attend the dedication of Big Bend National Park April 25-27.

DRY CLEANED

A certain Yankee householder recently laid in his winter's supply of coal. When the bill came from the dealer he noticed it boasted the slogan: "It's a Black business, but we treat you White."

The householder wept a little when he noted the amount of the invoice, then, wiping away the tears, he bravely made out the check. But with it he sent a little note, reading:

"May I offer a suggestion. I think you should change your slogan to 'It's a Dirty business, but we Clean you good.'"

NOWINSKI NOW NOLAN

Detroit, Mich. — Jerome Nowinski, 28, gave "social reasons" for his desire to have his name changed to Jerome Nolan. His wife, Aileen, is Irish, his boys are Patrick Michael, 6, and Dennis, 2, and many of his friends are Irish.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain's retiring U. N. Delegate: "Television's roving eye at the United Nations is killing oratory and turning diplomats into actors."

THE SUNNY SIDE

Waiting outside the theatrical agent's office, two worldworn actors were discussing the world.

"I suppose you've seen, Laddie, that the Government has prohibited the import of bananas?" said the one with the blue chin.

"Yes," replied the one with the moth-eaten fur collar, "there is also a shortage of eggs, and the high price of tomatoes should restrain the galleyites, too. It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good, laddie!"

NATURAL

An English tourist traveling in the North of Scotland, far away from anywhere, explained to one of the natives:

"Why, what do you do when any of you are ill? You can never get a doctor."

"Nae, sir," replied Sandy, "we've just to dee a natural death."

We never permit our son to do as he pleases. He just does it without our permission.

New and Powerful Weapons Bring New Problems and Fear of War

WASHINGTON: The recent tests of hydrogen weapons in the Pacific have produced really amazing news. Hydrogen weapons detonated have been so powerful completely new concepts of war may have to be developed.

In fact, military planners wonder how a nation could fight a war of any length if hydrogen weapons were involved. In the latest tests one explosion burned unsuspecting people more than 75 miles away from the explosion! Defense officials in Washington shudder at the thought of this, when considering plans for civilian defense against atomic attack.

There just isn't any defense for such a weapon, and that's the hard truth the U. S. people will have to be told. A Russian bomber fleet could start out with hydrogen bombs destined for the country's larger cities and the best advance notice would be a few hours.

In that period of time cities could not be evacuated and millions of people would certainly be killed. The Air Force admits many of such a fleet would probably get through, too, for air defense has not yet caught up with air offense—and no air attack in modern war has ever been turned back one hundred per cent, when large forces of bombers were involved and persisted in their attack.

So the major problem now becomes one of outlawing the new weapons. The question is also, whether the United States would ever use these weapons first. The majority opinion is that this country would never employ hydrogen bombs first in any new war. It is hoped, therefore, that the new weapons may be left stored and idle in a new war, just as was poisonous gas in the last.

But if the new weapons are used destruction will surpass anything contemplated with atom bombs. Destruction would be so fantastic wars would probably not last more than a few weeks or months at most. In that time, it is estimated that as many as 30 million Americans might be dead.

Inside the Iron Curtain major strains are opening up an opportunity for U. S. propaganda subversive operations. The Russian-controlled countries of Europe and Asia are experiencing a severe food famine, and there is no Communist source of food supplies to alleviate the situation.

Indications are that the Russians have pushed industrialization and heavy machinery production too fast, with the result that food supplies and food production have dwindled to surprising proportions. Moreover, there are admissions of the serious situation in Russia, China, the Balkans and just about every country under the Red yoke.

The best sources of U. S. intelligence are in such countries as Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Rumania, etc.—where there are many who detest Communism, and where the Reds have been in control only since World War II ended. The morale of the people in these countries has dropped to surprising proportions, and armed resistance is reported to have occurred on a number of occasions in these areas.

The Russians are reported to be engaged in a desperate effort to alleviate this condition. A hundred thousand Russian boys are being sent to heretofore untilled land in the colder regions of Russia in an effort to increase food output and the Communists have gone so far as to let farmers in the Balkans get out of the state's collective farm system in an effort to get them to produce more food.

These measures have come too late to help the situation before the fall's harvest, however, and currently the shortage of food is causing a famine in some areas. The time is therefore ripe for the United States to push its propaganda campaign against the Communists, exploiting the theme that Communism brings a low standard of life whereas the West is enjoying a period of prosperity and plenty.

It is also a good time to enlist secret agents to stir more unrest behind the Iron Curtain, and the effort is being made. An all-out attack on Communism where it originates might now accomplish more than the policy of containment—which of course cannot be abandoned. Russia, it appears, is weaker at home right now than she has been in several years, proving that weapons will not solve all of Malenkov's problems. People still like to eat, even in the glorious peoples' republics.

Fear of Germany Causes France To Hold Up E. D. C. Arms Pact

PARIS: It had been hoped that if the late Berlin Conference accomplished anything at all, it was to show only too clearly that the Soviet Union did not wish to come to an agreement with the West over general European problems. It is now evident that this fact has not registered in France. The chances of French participation in the European Defense Community seems now as remote as it did before.

Before he left Berlin for Paris, M. Bidault, the Foreign Minister, told newsmen that he anticipated that the E. D. C. treaty would be approved by the National Assembly sometime in April. He has recently announced that this prediction was perhaps a bit too optimistic on his part, and he speaks of a date later in the spring.

What has occurred illustrates only too clearly that the French will cling to any excuse to save them from swallowing the bitter pill of E. D. C. which they universally detest. While many of the more able statesmen realize the necessity of French participation in some sort of European army, it is the same problem which is holding this up. Germany!

France's fear of Germany is a tradition more than three decades old, a fear which has transcended history into modern times. It is real and understandable. However, the political situation in Europe today is such that a defense organization containing the troops of all the various continental countries, as well as Germany, is essential in order to present a solid front against the Soviet threat. It is both a bold and imaginative plan, but it would serve no good purpose if France were not a part of it.

At first French fears of a resurgent German militarism were overridden by suggestions that Germany would be limited to supplying two to five divisions under "international commanders." When further hesitations arose, Britain gave Paris assurances that while she would not physically take part in the formation of E. D. C., she would maintain close contact with the headquarters and collaborate in joint planning.

But with the increasing material and political strength of the West German Government becoming more evident each day, France still hesitated.

As soon as M. Bidault returned to Paris from Berlin, a group of former German generals who are now concerned with the details of Germany's participation in E. D. C. announced that it would perhaps be better if their country's contribution to the European Army be 50 divisions, completely armed and 50 field in reserve, although they were to be fully trained as well. It was also suggested that these troops would be more useful generally if they were to be under the command of national leaders.

It was this which destroyed many months of patient planning, for the French reacted to such claims with a rare unanimity among all the splinter parties. Now Paris must be placated and reassured once again . . . but it appears that just before ratification comes up for a vote in the Assembly something always occurs to delay it still further. It will be some time before the bitter pill is swallowed.

Sternberg Is New President Of Lions Club

W. W. STERNBERG

"We want Willie" was the chant of the Lions in the annual election of officers at their regular luncheon meeting in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church Wednesday. The Willie in question was W. W. (Bill) Sternberg, owner-manager of Sternberg Lumber Company. He won the election by a majority over his opponent Clark Jarnagin, assistant football coach at West Texas State College.

A strong demonstration was staged for Willie at the end of a campaign speech by Bill Knighton. Knighton said that Sternberg was a former fire chief, was in the Lumbermen's "Who's Who" and a veteran. In lauding him as a veteran Knighton said Sternberg went into the army as a Private and in only five short years worked himself up to the rank of Pfc.

Other officials elected were Art Roberts, first vice-president; Jimmy Flynn, second vice-president; and Bill Knighton, third vice-president. Two directors elected were Bob Bellah and Clark Jarnagin. Charles Hillier was elected Lion Tamer and Bill Wilson, taitwister. W. E. (Windy) Miller was Bill Wilson's opponent and some of the Lions felt that there were more voters present than there were Lions in this race. Approximately 149 votes were cast and only about 60 Lions were present. Could be that some of the Lions let not their left paw know what the right paw doeth?

New officials take office in July. Lion Jim Ed Waller made a short talk in behalf of his candidacy for District Governor 2-T-1.

Visitors were Jim Ed Waller, candidate of the Plainview Lions Club for District Governor, and guest of Gene McGlasson, Jr.; Judge Lee Nowlin, guest of Clay Cooper; Dr. C. D. Wofford, Jack Payne and Dr. Walter Williams, all of Plainview; and Jim Conway of Chicago, Ill.; and Sgt. Murphy of Omaha, Nebraska.

EMBARRASSING!

Leaving his coat and hat downstairs, he quietly opened the drawing room door, where the buzz of voices announced the presence of company. Dropping on his hands and knees, he entered, making funny noises distinctly resembling the braying of a donkey. Aware of a dead silence, he looked up and found the guests assembled for an 8 o'clock dinner regarding him with disgust not unmixed with alarm.

The children's party was next door. W. Sterling Cole, chairman, Senate-House Atomic Energy Commission: "The United States has the hydrogen bomb and can deliver it anywhere in the world."

Farm Bureau Issues Statement On Its Standing

This week the Farm Bureau issued a lengthy statement to set the record straight concerning what the organization stands for. The Farm Bureau program stands for 90% of parity if production is kept in line with demand. The program is not a stopgap measure but is designed to prevent farm surpluses and unstable farm prices. The program may be altered to meet future needs but as it stands now it is approved by a majority of the 1 1/2 million Farm Bureau members in 48 states and Puerto Rico. It stands for full parity for farmers and ranchers.

Farm Bureau led the fight for agriculture price supports and still stands for these supports. The statement says the Farm Bureau stands for a free market of 90% parity prices to maintain a farm standard of living equal to that of other groups. The program does not favor lower price supports.

According to the statement, the Bureau is for a long range, overall program of action on a number of fronts, expanded foreign markets, liberal farm credit and other things to secure a higher standard of living for farmers and ranchers in America. The Bureau goes on record in opposing any basically unsound farm program that does not attempt to solve the continuing problems of agriculture. The members believe that such a program would destroy the protection that agriculture recently obtained. The Farm Bureau is opposed to any unrealistic and selfish program for any industry or group that is detrimental to the whole economy.

Price is vital, believes the Farm Bureau, but vital only as a part of the total picture. The Bureau believes the only way to guarantee artificially high prices, and avoid surpluses, is to cut production. The statement says that "a small volume of production, even at a comparatively high price, does not secure a high net income. It does guarantee a nation of subservient, low income farmers and a bankrupt agricultural economy. A bankrupt agriculture means a bankrupt nation. A bankrupt nation is an easy prey for Communists, or Fascist infiltration and conquest."

WT Tennis Team To Play Three Matches in Week

West Texas State's tennis team will face three opponents this week in dual meets, opening action Wednesday in Dumas against Panhandle A & M, and Friday and Saturday at home against Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico Military Institute.

Hardin-Simmons, fielding one of its best teams in Cowboy history, has an excellent chance to win the Border Conference title this year, according to Dr. Roger Whealy, WT coach. Its doubles team, Carl Nunn, Sweetwater, and Wayne Miller, Plainview, won the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament last year.

Both the Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico Military matches are due to start about 2:30 p. m. Friday and Saturday.

West Texas' doubles teams will be Terry Smith, Amarillo, and Phil Nichol, Amarillo, and Dan Baldwin, Plainview, and Ralph Thompson, Dumas. Singles players designated in order by Dr. Whealy are Smith, Baldwin, Thompson, and Nichol. Fifth and sixth players will be used if needed; they are DeWayne Wells, Miami, and Ray Graham, Hereford.

WT will meet Texas Western at Canyon April 17, Texas Tech here April 30, New Mexico A & M in Las Cruces May 6, Texas Western in El Paso, May 5, and will play in the Border Conference matches in Tucson May 7-8.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Pierce of Crain, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Reed of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Seaton, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Reed, all of Amarillo, spent the week-end in the L. D. Caldwell home.

Methodist Student Center To Host Famous Speaker

Thursday morning, April 15, at 10 o'clock, George Harper will speak at the Methodist Student Center. His subject will be "Christian Witness on a College Campus."

Harper is in the Northwest Texas Conference to speak at five youth rallies to be held in different points in the area. Those rallies in this area will be in Plainview, and Borger.

Harper, a graduate of Garrett Biblical Institute and Northwest University, is a member of the North Alabama Conference of the Methodist church. Because he is such a dynamic speaker, he is a popular religious emphasis week speaker on college campuses.

Soon he will become executive secretary of the Board of Education of the Wyoming Conference. He serves now as projects secretary of the National Conference of Methodist Youth and is editor of Concern, the national news magazine for youth and Power, the daily devotional book for MYF.

In 1953 he was a delegate to the World Student Christian Federation Conference in Travancore, India. Just last spring he made a world wide tour of mission and youth work.

Mothproof Your Woolens in Wash

Moths will find their hope for a winter home drowned in the wash water with the new liquid solution EQ-53. Housewives can add the mothproofing solution directly to the wash water as they prepare to store winter woolens.

A few spoonfuls in the wash or rinse water leaves a minute quantity of DDT in the wool to ward off insects. Treatment with EQ-53 protects wool in storage for a year or more. It is also convenient for blankets in use the year around, says Lou Ella Patterson, Home Demonstration agent for Randall County. After washing or dry-cleaning, the blankets will need re-treatment.

More than 80 firms manufacture the product under various trade names, but EQ-53 appears in prominent print on most containers. The local drug stores should have this material in stock.

Among the educators participating in these discussions will be Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State, Professor Ivan Lee Little of Texas Technological College, Prof. Ben Johnson of Howard Payne Junior College, Dr. E. Debs Smith, Eastern New Mexico University, Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, Dr. C. A. Cryer, president, Frank Phillips Junior College, Miss Bertie Warren, Amarillo College, and Dr. Ima Barlow, West Texas State College.

Saturday evening at 8:30 the conference banquet will be held at the Blackstone Hotel. Dr. Floyd Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico University, will act as master of ceremonies. Conference opens at 1:30 Saturday afternoon with a welcome address from Dr. A. M. Meyer, president of Amarillo College, conference host. Serving as official host to the conference will be Dr. A. M. Meyer. Chairman of the program committee is Rev. James Pickens, director of the Wesley Foundation. Other members of the planning committee include Joseph Findley of West Texas State.

Canyon, Texas

Around the Town...

One of the prettiest sights in Canyon just now is the Forsythia at the Ross Craig's home. Every spring for about four weeks it is a beautiful mass of lovely yellow flowers. Neither the drouth nor the dust seem to affect it.

Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, world-famed engineering consultant and heroine of the book "Cheaper by the Dozen," mother of 12 children, grandmother of 27, now 75 years old, Dr. Gilbreth so far gives no indication of slackening. Dr. Gilbreth has just completed a trip around the world on private and government assignments.

Dr. Gilbreth is an internationally recognized expert on doing things in the quickest, simplest way, whether the field of effort be homemaking or heavy industry.

Although she is the mother of 12 children she does not recommend large families simply because "I don't recommend anything to anybody," but she notes with evident pleasure that young couples seem to be having more children. Of course, Dr. Gilbreth is the "weaker sex," but if you think you are getting old you might take heart from this woman.

Mrs. W. H. Upchurch gives the following recipe: Stir 2 Ts. of hominy grits in one cup of boiling water and cook until thick, put a cup of diced cheese on top and set aside to cool, when cool stir in the cheese, and beat three eggs in one at a time, season, bake in oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. If any is left let cool, slice about an inch thick, place in an ungreased pan and brown in a quick oven about 450 degrees.

Ivan Ray Tannehill, assistant chief of the Weather Bureau, and author of the book, "Drouth, Its Causes and Effects," says, "The general feeling is that there is going to be a little more rain over the Great Plains states this year than they had last year in the growing season."

Tannehill said Weather Bureau records show the maximum period of a general drouth has been three years. The current drouth started late in 1951.

Tannehill, in his book on drouths said the amount of rain which falls during the spring and summer over the Great Plains states is determined to a great extent by the temperature of the Pacific Ocean. If the water in the ocean off the Pacific Coast is colder than usual, in relation to land temperatures, less rain than normal falls in the Plains states. When the Pacific water is warm, rainfall over the nation's bread basket increases.

Asked what information the Weather Bureau has on Pacific Ocean temperatures this year, Tannehill said it has none which it is willing to rely on for the purpose of weather forecasting. Asked if there are any indications that the water is warmer or colder than usual, Tannehill said there are none.

So, it would seem that if we want more rain in the Plains all we have to do is WARM UP THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. — II Timothy, 1:7.

American Heritage Groups Plan Subject

On April 12 and 15 the two American Heritage discussion groups will have their third meeting of the series of six which have been planned by them for this spring. The subject will be "The Rugged Individualist and the Welfare State." Dr. M. R. Callahan will be leader Monday night and Joseph Findley Thursday night. Both meetings will be held in the Conference Room of West Texas State College Library, each beginning at 7:30.

March meetings had lively discussions of the Declaration of Independence and Constitution of the United States. About 32 persons participated with Dr. Callahan, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, and Luther Hagard serving as leaders.

VARIETY RING MEETS IN HOME OF MRS. RAE WALTERS THUR.

Mrs. Rae M. Walters was hostess to the Variety Ring on April 1. Every member was present and did needle work of various kinds. Several April Fool pranks were played.

The guessing box was passed but the contents were not guessed, although Mrs. Marshall gave further clue to the contents.

Mrs. E. P. Hardaway brought flower seed for the members.

A refreshment plate consisting of beans, pickled onions, corn bread sandwiches, angel food cake, Easter candies with coffee was served. The napkins carried out the motif of various special days of the year.

Those enjoying the afternoon of fun were Mesdames George Barker, J. M. Breitling, Levi Cole, J. P. Hammons, E. P. Hardaway, L. E. Hogue, S. L. Hood, Charles Hutchinson, Mae Johnson, Fred Marshall, P. L. Pitt, and the hostess, Mrs. Walters.

Mrs. G. B. Bourland recently spent three weeks visiting with her son, Gordon, and family in Ft. Worth, her brother, M. H. Taylor, and other relatives at Cedar Hill, and with friends in Lubbock.

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON
U. S. Senator

A West Texan asks what I consider the number one problem before Texas. I think the answer to that question is water—water for people; water for crops; water for stock; water for industry.

For most of our state, 1953 was a year of drought. A few facts tell the story. The average temperature for the year was two per cent above normal. The greater part of Texas had 50 to 75 per cent of normal rainfall. For West Texas only 25 per cent. Amarillo had the driest period in the history of its weather station; the Rio Grande ran dry at Laredo for the first time in the record books; San Antonio had one of its driest years since 1925.

I have followed the Weather Bureau reports closely. The early reports for 1954 are not encouraging. Only parts of East Texas have received 50 to 100 per cent of normal rainfall. Far West Texas went down to 25 per cent of normal in the 13 weeks that ended March 15. Central Texas could boast of 25 to 50 per cent normal.

Water is not just a farm problem. It's a big city problem, too. Weather Bureau Reports on 17 Texas cities for the week ended March 15 showed only two—Galveston and Houston—with any rainfall at all. It was insignificant. The other 15 cities chalked up a score of zero. All should have had some rain on the basis of past records.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE? Sea water into fresh water is possible but will not be feasible on a large scale until some time in the future. Rain making is still in the experimental stage... and cannot be done anyway without clouds. The only possible answer is store up water or starve! In the "fat" years, we must save the precious water that will take us through the lean years.

This means heavier concentration on small dams and upstream projects. Texas is a "big" state and many of its problems can be solved only through "big" projects. But the "big" water projects do not meet the needs of all our people. We need thousands of small dams in the upland areas—dams that will not only store water but give Texans protection against the flash floods that do so much damage and wash away the soil.

We have had many surveys... many projects. But we haven't licked the problem yet! It is going to take all of us—working together—to get something done. About 300 years ago, a very wise man said: "God helps those who help themselves." I think this is just another way of saying that the Almighty will respond to our own faith, confidence and courage.

I am working in close cooperation with the Government agencies that are involved in Soil Conservation; Flood Control and Reclamation. There are some fine men in those agencies—men who have dedicated their lives to saving the soil as a heritage for our children. I have appeared before Congressional Committees and urged project after project.

I want your ideas; I want all the advice I can get. Won't you drop me a line on conditions in your area and what should be done? No amount of expert advice can replace the people who are on the spot—who are watching precious topsoil blow away while crops wither in the field for lack of water.

TWO CANYON AAUW MEMBERS ATTEND DUMAS MEETING

Mrs. Linnie Harter, president of the Canyon branch of American Association of University Women, and Dr. Ruth Lowes recently attended the first program meeting of the new Dumas branch of AAUW. They were accompanied by Mrs. Erwin C. Ochsner of Amarillo, state president, and Mrs. M. U. Lively, president of the Amarillo branch. Mrs. Ochsner was guest speaker at the meeting.

Miss Jewell Foster, a former member of the Canyon organization, was instrumental in organizing the Dumas branch.

DURABLE MONEL ROOF

When New York's Pennsylvania Station was built, Monel, a nickel-copper alloy, was used for the entire roof over the main waiting room and arcade except for the skylight frames. These frames gradually disintegrated from atmospheric corrosion. But the Monel roofing shows no sign of corrosion, pitting, or embrittlement after more than 43 years of exposure to the same conditions.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Congress is now considering what is termed greatest forward step for the welfare of independent business ever undertaken in the Republic's history.

Senator Edward J. Thye (Rep., Minn.) Select Senate Small Business Committee Chairman has introduced Senate Resolution No. 213 to make this committee a standing committee.

In discussing this proposed action a review of history and Congressional procedure is enlightening.

There are 15 Committees known as Standing Committees, clothed with legislative authority. In actual practice, standing committees decide on proposed legislation. Unless a bill is approved by the proper committee, it seldom has a chance of getting passed.

There are also other committees, some permanent in nature, such as present Senate Small Business Committee. But these committees, while they investigate, and make recommendations, have no legislative authority.

For more than four years the permanent Senate Small Business Committee has performed brilliant work. Shortly after it was organized as a permanent committee the Korean War started, and it is the belief of many that during the critical period of material allocations and priorities, American small business might have succumbed if it had not been for the outstanding work of this committee.

As a comparison Agriculture not only is represented by a cabinet officer, but also by Standing Agriculture Committees in both the House and Senate. Any bill affecting farmers must first be examined, investigated and voted on by these committees.

Yet, according to last Commerce Department report there are only 3,700,000 farmers and farm managers in the nation, while the number of small or independent business enterprises is placed at 4,000,000.

Labor is another Standing Committee which deals with all legislation affecting labor.

Actually, the only important segment of the American economy not given safeguard of Standing Committee is independent small business, yet not a week passes that a bill is introduced which has a vital effect on the welfare of small business.

It is to the credit of the Select Senate Small Business Committee and its counterpart in the House, that more legislation detrimental to independent business welfare has not slipped through the last four years. But only by vigilance and hard work have these committees performed so much service for the nation.

It is also a tribute to the fair viewpoint toward independent business problems by Congress as a whole, that recommendations of the present committees have been considered before final voting on the floors.

However, the welfare and interests of the nation's 4,000,000 small business firms is felt to fully merit the attention of a standing committee.

Therefore, approval of Senate Resolution No. 213 will give American small business the security at the legislative level which modern conditions necessitates with a standing committee as a full fledged watchdog.

Bufs Slate '54 Grid Schedule

Frank Kimbrough, head football coach at West Texas State College, recently announced a nine game schedule for the fall of 1954. Three of the nine games to be played are in Canyon and one of these three, New Mexico A&M, October 16, (Homecoming) is a Border Conference foe.

Opening game of the season is to be played in Canyon this year and is against McMurry on the night of September 18. The other home game is with Midwestern on October 2. The October 16 game with the New Mexico Aggies will climax the home schedule.

Other games scheduled are with Texas Tech at Lubbock, September 25; Arizona State at Tempe, Oct. 23; Arizona University at Tucson, Oct. 30; Trinity University at San Antonio, Nov. 6; Hardin-Simmons at Abilene, Nov. 13; and Texas Western at El Paso, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27.

The two bright spots on the Buff record last year were the 20-20 tie with McMurry College in Buffalo Stadium and the 20-14 upset victory by the Buffaloes over Midwestern College. Probably the darkest spot of the season was the defeat at the hands of the New Mexico Aggies. It was their first win over the Bufs since West Texas first became a member of the Border Conference.

Read Contracts Carefully Before You Sign Them

Since contracts may be entered into quite informally, many people fall into serious difficulties by binding themselves to agreements which they do not fully understand. It is very easy for the unwary individual to obligate himself beyond his intent or ability to perform, and thereby invite litigation and a consequent judgment of forced performance or damages in favor of the other party to the contract.

Contracts are absolutely essential to the functioning of modern business. In order to plan for the future—to set up a business, insure a steady supply of necessary materials and goods, set a price and a delivery date on what we have to sell, etc.—we must know that the courts will, if necessary, enforce the contracts we make with others.

Only a minute percentage of the millions of contracts annually made find their way to the courts. But by seeing that the exceptional case which reaches litigation is settled justly, the courts make it possible for the remaining multitude of transactions to be conducted with a minimum of friction.

How can we minimize the possibilities of litigation over our contracts? How can we protect ourselves in event we should later wind up in court? A clear understanding of all terms of every agreement entered into may prove the best answer to both these questions. Justice demands that we be held to the letter of our lawful contracts, lest the other party be damaged by our failure. Knowing this, we should apply a few common sense rules in our dealings with others.

First, let's take a look at the ordinary verbal agreement. Any terms about which you do not reach a specific agreement will probably be supplied by the customs of the particular business, or by a pattern set up by your previous dealings with the other party. Do you understand those customs? Do you want this contract to be carried out just like last time? If not, talk it over. Have a clear conception of your obligations and the other party's duties. And be sure that he, too, understands fully.

If you have doubts concerning the integrity of the other party, why deal with him at all? If you feel compelled to deal with him in spite of doubts, try to complete your oral agreement in the presence of other, disinterested persons. Their version of the terms may be helpful later.

One of the greatest difficulties with verbal contracts is that of proving exactly what agreement was reached when an argument over terms later winds up in the courthouse. Human memories are faulty, and we have difficulty recalling the exact words spoken six months, or even six days ago. A written memorandum signed by both parties at the time, or even a simple exchange of letters assenting to the material terms, may prevent trouble.

When executing a written contract without benefit of legal counsel, take time to read and understand every word, even at the risk of being considered dull. Read especially any fine print, or regulations printed on the back, forming a part of the contract.

Be wary when the other party offers a verbal explanation which seems at variance with the printed terms. When you get to court, you will probably find that the printed word means just what it says, and that the contradictory oral explanation will not be admitted in evidence.

NEW IRON ORE PRODUCER

International Nickel has undertaken the construction of a $16,000,000 plant for the production of by-product iron ore from nickel ores in the Sudbury District of Ontario. From the ores in this famous District, the company is presently producing 12 elements—nickel, copper, platinum, palladium, rhodium, ruthenium, iridium, gold, silver, cobalt, selenium and tellurium. The new operation will ultimately yield annually about 1,000,000 tons of iron ore higher in grade than any now produced in quantity in North America.

Let's Play Fair

What do you think about a person who cheats on examinations or money matters? Probably you don't have a very high opinion of that person because he is not honest and does things to deceive and trick others.

Once John Doe was caught cheating on a test and when his parents heard about it they were very disturbed because they knew their son had been taught to be honest. When the boy was asked why he had done it, he replied that he had agreed to go along with the others in cheating, for if he didn't he would have been called a coward.

It is not right to engage in an act merely because many others do the same thing and even though the other kids would have called John Doe a coward did not give him sufficient reason for committing his act.

Cheating is not right. Even if undetected, it would not make John a better person. It might even get him into the habit of feeling that he could resolve other crises arising in school and later life by tricky, underhanded methods.

Sometimes it is wise to conform with others, but in doing so avoid taking an extreme approach. If their course seems to be a wise and proper one, then go along with it. But if you know the proposed action is wrong and harmful, don't follow along like a lost sheep. In the long run, you will be respected by others for sticking to your principles. Someone who has the courage to follow his right conscience will be admired by most people.

Take Part

Regular attendance at your club or organization meetings is part of being a good citizen.

A good school citizen takes part in school organizations and votes on all matters, whether important or trivial. Business to be transacted at these meetings needs each member to voice his opinion because it affects each member.

There is a majority, the same number, who attend all the time and know what is going on, a few who attend only when there is a special program or party, and a few who never attend at all after they become a member of the organization.

Voting is a pleasure and an honor in this nation and the majority who attend the club meetings exercise this privilege and profit from it because they know what is to be in their club.

Are you one of the few who are losing contact with the social school activities and who feels as if you have no part in anything in school? It's your own fault, because those who attend and mingle with others in school through organizations are benefiting from it and are privileged.

The organizations and clubs are functioning because of the majority, the same group that are highest in their classes, who want operate, not because of the increasing few, the ones who are lazy and discontented in school, who are constantly absent.

Extra-curricular school activities are necessary to one's well-being and social life. It is at these meetings that one can be democratic and at its parties can "let their hair down."

Well, kiddies, ole Cal is gonna tell you a story about when he was sheriff of my old home town, Lese Burg.

We wuz sitting in the saloon with a bottle of Old Crow in front of us when a whole gang of hembres walked in Warren Green and Brown clothes. We heard them say they were a Hank-ering to get some of those Golden Stones that were in the Lese burg Bank. Well, is Simms there were four of the young hembres, Dod son, John son, Samuel son, and Daw son. We decided that it was the son gang.

They walked right in the bank, walked up to the Clark, and demanded all the cash and Bonds. The bank teller refused. One of the gang grabbed the banker's daughter and said, "We'll hold her for Ranson, and if you stall any Moore, We'll Kuehler. "One of the gang sure was a Kuhl man; he sat in a corner playing Sol.

The robbers ran out with the loot and put it on their Burrows. "Cover me while I have a last look around," said the leader. "I'm busy Bolton down the loot," said the biggest fellow. They decided the Clement was too bad for them there so they rode off leaving Sheets of dust.

"Let's go after those Hicks," I said so we hopped into the old Ford and went after them. "Parker over there," I said when we got to their little Fort in the hills.

We started shooting and they started shooting. There I was, fanning my gun, Downing them one by one. They came out with their hands up, but I Ad cocked my gun so I had to shoot a passing Partridge. "Don't shoot! We won't Keller," they shouted.

We advanced, but we couldn't get through the Hungate so we climbed over the fence. They Rose up and started throwing McBrooms at us. We moved up behind the Wells so all the McBrooms fell in the Pond. Finally they were out of things to throw except a Brandon iron, a Keene knife, a razor Stroup, and a Quill en an arrow. Finally the last thing had Glanton-ed off the Wells so I got up. "Come on, you guys. You got Air harts?" I said.

I rescued the girl but one of those hembres started to throw something at me. I pulled out my Ray gun and shot them all down. We went to see what was left and what they were going to throw. Well, it was just a Hollabaugh they were going to throw, and all that was left of those crooks was a Ray mond. "They won't try that any Morris," I said.

And that shows you the wages of sin, kiddies, so be good till next week.

Students Taking First Aid Course

First Aid Red Cross certification is being offered to the two home-making II classes two days a week for nine weeks. Mr. Maynard, a Red Cross First Aid instructor from Amarillo, is teaching the class at the first and second periods on Monday and Tuesday of each week.

Forty sophomores, two juniors, and one senior have signed up for the Red Cross course. Mrs. L. B. Penick and Mrs. Clara B. Long are teacher sponsors of this course.

Main topic of the first lesson was Why Take First Aid. Directions on what to do at the scene of an accident were given. The second lesson covered shock, factors that contribute to shock, symptoms, and how to administer first aid to shock patients.

Other lessons will cover dressings and bandages; wounds and their care; artificial respiration; injuries to bones and muscles; transportation of the injured; first aid for common medical emergencies; the human body; and first aid kits.

Miss Mary Rye, Home Service director for Pioneer Natural Gas Company in Lubbock, visited in the homemaking department on Thursday, and will be back in April to visit classes and give new information on using gas ranges. She will also be the guest speaker at the May FHA meeting.

Mrs. Clara B. Long, home economics teacher, and Billie Graham attended an Area I FHA State Degree committee meeting in Plainview March 27 to help judge the written application for State Degrees of 57 girls from Area I.

An FHA State Degree is an outstanding honor and one of the highest honors given on state level in FHA. A girl has to have previously received a Junior Degree and a Chapter Degree before she is qualified to receive a State Degree.

June Davis, a junior from Canyon High, sent in her application for a State Degree.

Ray Anthony is the favorite band of this member of the senior class. She has pretty brown hair and sparkling blue-green eyes. In the literary field Random Harvest is the book liked best by her. She plans to carry out her ambition to study psychology by entering that field at West Texas State College next fall.

Her favorite subjects are English and speech. She has not been a student at Canyon High School very long; but, where she lived previously she was student council representative during her freshman year and Red Cross representative during her sophomore year. She is now a member of the Science Club. Photography is her hobby. A friend of hers remarked, "She has made many friends while attending CHS and it delights me to be one of them."

Notes to Parents

In the interest of making better students, parents are asked to read the following points which refer to cooperation, attendance, home study, and outside interest of the students.

1. Cooperation of Parents. Your earnest active, and continued cooperation with the school is necessary to secure the best results. You are urged to visit the school and get acquainted with the teachers. They will appreciate friendly conferences concerning the pupil's welfare.

2. Regular Attendance. Pupils should not be permitted to be tardy or absent except for the most urgent and imperative reasons. Regularity, punctuality, singleness of purpose and concentration cannot be too strongly emphasized. The home should instill the idea that school duties are paramount and cannot be neglected without serious loss.

3. Home Study. Home study is absolutely necessary to secure the best results. Some students have so few study periods that all lessons cannot be prepared during school hours. Some should be prepared at home.

4. Outside Interest. It follows that social functions leading to "late hours," frequent theater going, or any other enterprise consuming much of the pupil's time or enlisting his interest are highly detrimental to good school work.

With these things in mind parents should encourage regular attendance and home study and check outside interest to help students do better work while in school and help them prepare for their future vocations.

OF THE 18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Last Week in Congress

As you have all noticed from your newspapers, last week was a pretty busy one in Congress. We started off with routine business and then got into the Independent Offices Appropriations Bill. This is the bill that provides the funds for the operation of 44 agencies of government known as Independent Offices. It begins with the Executive Office of the President, including his salary, the operating cost and care of the White House and its grounds, the Presidents Emergency Funds, and similar incidental expenses.

It also includes the Atomic Energy Commission, the Bureau of the Budget, General Accounting Office, Selective Service System, Civil Service Commission, the Hoover Commission, the Manion Commission, and many others, including the American Battle Monuments Commission. It also included funds for public housing, which was a highly controversial issue.

There was quite a bit of parliamentary maneuvering in an effort to do away completely with public housing funds, but it appears that this might have kicked back and resulted in a green light for the construction of 35,000 public housing units, whereas it had been contemplated that the best the administration could come off with would be 20,000. This may be one for the courts to decide later on.

In any event, the overall bill involved the expenditure of $5,566,118,763. This figure is the amount that was finally authorized in the final passage of the bill. It was $363,604,837 under the budget estimate, and $375,168,400 below the 1954 appropriations.

You, of course, understand that the appropriations in this bill are for the 1955 fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1954. We began consideration of this five and a half billion dollar bill on Monday and debated it until 6:33 p. m., at which time we adjourned until Tuesday for further consideration of it. On Tuesday the bill was again considered for amendments and further debate was had until 6:13 p. m., when we adjourned over until Wednesday.

The bill was then considered further, amendments voted on, points of order fully considered and acted upon, and the bill finally voted on and passed. The House then adjourned at 6:03 p. m. until Thursday, at which time it was to consider the housing bill.

On Thursday, while the housing bill was being considered, I was

Mrs. Crowder Keith Clark Repeat Vows

Mrs. Louise M. Crowder became the bride of Keith W. Clark in a double ring ceremony at 3 p. m. Sunday, March 21, at the Sandia Base Protestant Chapel, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Army Chaplain Charles Miller read the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. I. Wester of Canyon. Mr. Clark's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Johnson, Blackfoot, Iowa.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of lilies flanked with fern, palms, and candelabra. The bride was given in marriage by Everett Grantham of Albuquerque. She wore a two-piece gray suit with a white hat trimmed in blue. She carried a white orchid bouquet.

Mrs. George Garas, matron-of-honor, wore a lace aqua dress and carried a bouquet of pink laced carnations.

Mr. Garas was best man. After the ceremony the wedding party and intimate friends, who were witnesses of the ceremony, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hee Morrow.

Mrs. Clark, who is a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State College, has taught school for a number of years in Clovis, N. M., and has been employed at the air base there. At the time of her marriage she was employed at the Officers Club at Kirkland A. F. B.

Mr. Clark, a Navy Yeoman 1/c, has been stationed at Sandia Base for the past two years. He expects to receive his discharge in one month and will enter law school at the University. Prior to entering the service, he attended the University of California, Los Angeles, and the University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho.

The couple is at home at 517 Adams, N. E. Albuquerque.

MULLINS ENTERTAINS TWO GUESTS OVER WEEK-END

Miss Ruby Weldon and Ethel Tipps were week-end visitors in the new home of District Clerk Ethel Mullins, one mile east of the college.

Miss Weldon is a former court reporter who worked for the United Nations during the German War Crimes trials. She returned from Germany and worked with the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce then went into the chinchilla business. She is a member of the Arnold & Weldon Chinchilla Ranch as well as organizer and president of the Wichita Falls Chinchilla Breeders Association.

sitting in the House Chamber, in the same chair that I occupied the day the Puerto Ricans sprayed the House with their fusillade of shots. Everything was going along quietly, as it was the day of the Puerto Rican shooting.

All of a sudden there was a faint flash from the same corner that the Puerto Ricans had fired their guns. There is no need to tell you what went through my mind. However, it was a false alarm, although a violation of the rules of the House. It seems that some high school boy had brought his camera into the gallery and, not knowing the rules of the House, had snapped a flash bulb picture of the House of Representatives in session.

It has long been a rule of the House that pictures cannot be taken from the gallery, except by special permission, and this special permission is and has always been confined to state occasions, such as joint sessions, appearances of the President, and other matters of prime importance. Only recently have people been allowed to enter the gallery with brief cases, cameras, and things of that kind. They were always required to check them with an officer on the gallery floor in the corridor outside.

Although there has been much talk about security since the Puerto Rican shooting, there seems to have been very little done about it, because you can look up in the gallery any day and see everything from flash bulb cameras to small suitcases. I just hope that none of them contain any firearms or other deadly weapons.

Another interesting thing happened on the Floor last week that was very amusing. We were engaged in debate on the public housing issue. Public housing has been opposed by our beloved speaker, Honorable Joe Martin, for many years. However, he finds himself in a rather strange position this year.

The Administration, for which he is legislative leader in the House, is asking for the same public housing that he has opposed for so many years. His support of the President's public housing program, as well as support of that program by others who have opposed it in past years, prompted one of the Members to make a speech on the Floor recalling the many things that had been said by these several Members against public housing in the past.

The debate was in a good spirit, and everyone was thoroughly enjoying it. When the Member making the speech came to that part where he was to read what Speaker Joe Martin had said in past years against public housing, the member's time ran out. Just as he started to quote the exact words of Speaker Martin, it became the unpleasant duty of the Speaker to stop him because the time had run out. It was a very strange coincidence and probably would not happen again in a thousand years. However, the Speaker, in his usual graciousness and good fellow manner, requested that the Member be given some additional time so that he could finish his speech.

WAYSIDE H. D. CLUB MEETS IN CANYON WITH MRS. SORELLE

The Wayside Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. I. F. So-Relle in Canyon April 1 for an all day affair. The agent, Mrs. Jo Ann Bannister, prepared, demonstrated and served the noon meal. The menu consisted of beef roast and gravy, Franconia potatoes, Harvard beets, green beans, and onion salad with French dressing, batter rolls and butter, iced tea and apricot whip.

The meal was delicious and enjoyed by 14 members, the agent, and three visitors. Visitors were Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Randall county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Hodges, and Mrs. Buddy Taylor, of Canyon, and Mrs. Bannister of Claude.

Members were Mesdames Leroy Roberts, Wiatt Heisler, Floyd Adams, W. R. Franklin, Melton McGee, David Rae, Stanley Hill, Henry Hamblen, E. J. Mahler, Bessie Lane, Carrol Dean Rogers, A. J. Newsom, James Bible, all of Wayside.

In the afternoon Mrs. Ed Speed and Mrs. Mildred Plant, of Amarillo, demonstrated textile painting and working with copper. This interesting demonstration will be given in the near future in Wayside. Time and place will be announced later.

Next club meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wiatt Heisler April 15 at 2:30 p. m. Subject to be county government, and the leader will be Judge Morris of Claude. Mrs. Melton McGee will speak on our present candidates and their platform.

PINK AND BLUE SHOWER IS GIVEN MRS. CARROL D. ROGERS

The Wayside Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Stanley Hill last month. After the business session was over a surprise pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Carrol Dean Rogers was given.

Mrs. Rogers received many lovely gifts and several sent gifts who could not attend.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

Spring seems to hit the younger generation in the hair, so to speak. Girls either cut their long tresses to a moth-eaten line at the nape of the neck, or else they tie them up horsetail fashion, to give the impression of a graceful young filly.

Boys, on the other hand, go in for shaven heads. From the four-year-old, who comes of age with his first burred haircut, to the college boy who leaves only a quarter-inch growth all over his cranium, the masculine world asserts its independence of female domination at this season of the year. For certainly no mama, wife, sister, sweetheart or maiden aunt would voluntarily agree to this skull-revealing practice on the part of their male loved ones.

Perhaps the most interesting exhibition of this mannish independence is that of high school boys. We sat behind three of them at church Sunday and observed the three shades of family domination:

One had the real thing — his 'knowledge bumps' shining white through the thin hair coating. Another, undoubtedly the crew-cut type, had evidently been told no by a strong-willed mama. His head, though bowed, looked fairly normal. The third was much harder to diagnose. His slicked-down hair swept to a graceful ducktail from sides to back, but on top it was cropped into a decisive crew cut.

The spouse, who should have been listening to the sermon — leaned over and whispered, "Athlete on top, Hollywood around the edges."

Anyway, we made a mental note to stand up for the weaker sex the next time there was a discussion of silly hair-dos.

Lions Observe Ladies Night

Lions Club Ladies Night was held Thursday at the high school cafeteria. After the invocation and one verse of "America" and the traditional pledge to the flag, the guests were introduced. Then the program was turned over to George Blackwell who introduced Clarence Eugene Thompson, tail-twister.

Members had been called and told to wear certain clothes in planning the affair. Some were asked to dress in western garb, some of the women wore dress clothes, and others were dressed in street clothes, while some were all decked out in evening clothes.

Lion Blackwell made a long serious speech lauding ongoing Lion Boss McGregor. He explained that a gift had been purchased for the former Lion Boss and would be presented to him at the end of the speech. As the speech took up so much time the job of bringing in the gift had to be rushed up. The tail-twister went out for the gift and in hurrying back in he fell. Then the shattering news came out that the gift was crystal. After the sham crystal breaking episode, the party began to liven up.

Two women and two men from the group had to participate in a ladder climbing stunt. They had a task to perform and there were a few obstacles to overcome. The task was to climb to the top of the step ladder holding a toothpick in the mouth and without the use of the hands pick up a Life-saver from the top of the ladder and bring it down to transfer to partner's toothpick. The obstacles were in the form of fresh eggs on the steps which were not to be dislodged either in ascent or descent.

The women got in on the act when a crowing contest was held. Three of the women and three Lions were in the contest. The audience acted as judge and it turned into a battle of the sexes with men applauding the men and the women applauding the women. As there were about the same number of each sex present referee Clarence Eugene Thompson declared the contest a draw.

This particular Ladies Night of the Lions appropriately fell on April Fool day. Although the next Ladies Night is planned for July, it will have all the unpredictable events of any of the other Lions activities. In all probability it will have the flavor of April Fool in July.

The largest lake trout ever recorded as taken on a rod and reel was caught on a Monel wire line. Setting a world's record, the whopper weighed 63 pounds and 2 ounces.

'Right of Way' Looks Different From Hospital Bed

"Go ahead, you've got the right of way!"

Whispered in your ear by the accident gremlin, these are the most famous last words of all. They generally precede many — too many — of all serious traffic accidents. And nearly 25% of all accidents, say insurance people, are caused by drivers who think they have the right of way—but don't.

Usually, the man who assumes he has the right of way is in a hurry—full of that impatience that makes us bull our way through to save a few seconds. Or to think we save a few seconds. Actually, "haste makes waste" is a proverb doubly applicable to driving — it wastes both lives and time.

It's been proved, too. A famous racing driver tried it not long ago. He made two 10-mile drives through city traffic—the first at the greatest possible speed, pushing lights, bending and breaking most traffic laws—the second over the same route, but driving carefully and observing all laws and the rules of courtesy.

Yet his "fast" trip saved less than 30 seconds over the one in which he observed all the laws!

Even if you saved ten times that by taking chances in bulling through against both law and courtesy—it just wouldn't be worth it. You'd be risking your life and limb—yours and those of others—for next to nothing.

The right of way does you no good—if the other driver doesn't know you have it!

Speed Maniac To Be Stopped by Cops

AUSTIN: Heavy-footed Texas motorists, whose tendency to push too hard on the gas pedal of their cars has made speed the Number One traffic killer in the State, are going to face the newest scientific device which has been designed to keep them—and others—alive by checking their rate of travel.

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced in Austin that the Highway Patrol Division of his agency has secured three Radar Speed Meters and that they will be put into use shortly in selected areas of the State.

He stated that the use of the radar machines will be a far cry from the old concept of "speed traps" and that the public will be adequately acquainted with their locations.

The machines, said to be accurate even beyond the reliability of an auto speedometer, will be operated by members of the Patrol who have been specially schooled in their use.

The first public tests of the equipment will be made later this week in the Harlingen area and judges, prosecutors and members of the press will be invited to try their hands at "beating the machine."

Garrison said that similar public demonstrations would be made in other areas at intervals before the devices are actually utilized to catch speeders.

President Eisenhower Likes Plain Talk Spiced Up Some

By STANLEY JAMES

WASHINGTON: Some visitors to the White House say they are surprised to find that President Eisenhower is not a stiff, reserved old statesman but a "regular guy" who cusses, in his conversations, like anybody else.

"He sprinkled a lot of 'hells' and 'damns' in his talk with me," one politician said in an interview with this correspondent. "I liked it. In fact I even got bold enough to stick a 'damn' or two in my sentences. He didn't seem to mind."

Before going into the White House, the visitor had been cautioned by a friend to be extremely polite. "Remember, you will be in the presence of the President of the United States," his friend advised.

The politician was respectful all right, but he found that Eisenhower didn't want to be treated as a saint. He yearned for man-to-man talk, and he indulged in it the way he used to do in the army.

The conversation ran on for nearly an hour, lengthened by jokes and stories, and a lot of good fellowship. The visitor could hardly believe the President had the weight of the world on his shoulders.

He said, also, that "Ike" seemed a lot more healthy than he looked in some of his photographs.

The politician, who has been visiting the White House through three administrations, said, "Ike" is much like Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman in one respect: a love for plain, old masculine talk, well spiced with those "hells" and "damns."

Shortage of Nurses In All Phases of Hospital Needs

AUSTIN: Increases in hospital and nursing home beds and a jump in the number of people carrying hospital insurance are the two chief causes of the nursing shortage in Texas and elsewhere, state health officials say.

The fact that there are more and more hospital beds for insured persons to take advantage of during brief illnesses indicate that nurses have to spread their time thinner and thinner to meet the demand.

Other factors mentioned in the shortage are increasing numbers of dependent children and oldsters, and a shortage of high school graduates who are psychologically adapted for nursing duties.

Nursing re-registrations in Texas last year totaled 21,889, according to figures kept by the State Board of Nursing Examiners. A board spokesman pointed out that figure did not include new registrations, but did include some out-of-state nurses who wanted to maintain their Texas licenses.

Nursing licenses in Texas are distributed throughout hospitals and schools of nursing, in public health units and school systems, and in industry. While state health leaders were pointing up nursing shortages in Texas, World Health Organization authorities were doing the same thing on a world basis. World Health Day was observed April 7 with the theme: "The Nurse—Pioneer of Health."

The heart of the nursing profession, WHO officials say, is contained in a line written 100 years ago by Florence Nightingale of Crimean War fame.

"A loving heart is not enough," she wrote. "The art of caring for the sick, the knowledge of the laws of life and death, are matters of sufficient importance and difficulty to require learning by experience and careful inquiry, just as much as any other art."

Today, in state, national and world medical and public health circles, nurses are recognized as friends and counsellors of all and welcome health teachers. Doctors and community leaders insist nursing importance in local health work and community life is second to none.

Florence Nightingale gave the world a new conception of the power and place in society of the trained and educated woman. Modern nursing combines the attributes of compassion with the calm ability conferred by the disciplines of education and training.

The entire nation will be better off when the shortage of trained nurses is overcome.

Fewer and Better Movies Is Cry Of Hollywood Production Firms

By EDWARD H. SIMS

HOLLYWOOD: In Hollywood the idea now is fewer but better pictures. Rufus Blair, newspaper publicity director at Paramount, explained the new policy as follows:

"The competition from the television industry and other factors has cut down production of B pictures. People will not pay to see them like they used to. They will come out to see a good picture—that's something they don't get, new, on TV."

MILITARY 'NEW LOOK'

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles recently told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the Administration's "new look" policy on national defense was designed to give clear warning to the Russians that "if they attack the United States or our vital interests, we will hit them with everything we have." However, he explained, that this policy of "massive retaliation" would not "turn their local war into a general war."

BUYING DROP

A survey conducted by the Federal Reserve Board, reveals that the general public seems "somewhat less confident" than a year ago about personal finances and plans to cut its buying somewhat this year. As an example, about 7.8 per cent of the nation's spending units planned to buy a new automobile in early 1954, compared with nine per cent in early 1953.

FAMILY 'DOING FINE'

Detroit, Mich. — The whole Walter Woodward family was reported "doing fine" at the hospital recently. Walter Woodward, 32, was seized with a sudden cramp when he carried his wife to the hospital for the birth of their expected baby. He was rushed to the operating room to have his appendix removed, while Mrs. Woodward gave birth to the baby.

DOG PROTECTS BOY

Palmyra, Ill. — When searchers found Danny Pratt, 3, who had been missing for eight hours, they found the child's collie, Corsky, lying on top of him, trying to keep him warm and dry. Danny was taken for an examination and was found to be suffering from bruises, scratches and exposure, but otherwise unharmed.

BAFFLING

The loss of a thousand dollars by a poet in New York recently has baffled every other member of the tribe in the nation. They are all eager to learn his markets and methods of marketing.

Revised editions of the Holy Bible, leather binding, $10; cloth binding, $6; at Warwicks. If that's something they don't get, new, on TV.

"Because of this situation, the major studios are cutting production of B pictures. We used to make over 50 pictures a year. Now we're shooting less than 20 this year. The idea is to make fewer pictures, but better pictures."

The drop in production in Hollywood is clearly revealed by a visit to the major studios. Metro isn't shooting. Fox has been closed for some time. Paramount's operations are restricted to a fraction of what they were.

"One of the problems this situation is causing is a scarcity of training places for young actors and actresses. In the past the B pictures used to be the training ground for the coming stars, but today we have to go out and get established stars," Blair said.

The new industry — television — will have to produce the new stars, perhaps, although TV and the screen employ different techniques. Many of filmland's favorites are already on TV programs of their own, and TV stars can be expected to move into Hollywood, which several have already done.

The net result will probably please the average American. He will get better pictures along with a mass of free entertainment via the airwaves.

GOP Rally in Amarillo Apr. 12

SENATOR GOLDWATER

A Panhandle-wide Republican rally is scheduled for Monday night, April 12, in the Herring Hotel.

Guest speaker for the GOP dinner will be Senator Barry Goldwater, junior senator from Arizona, brother-in-law of Mrs. Sally Harrington Goldwater, formerly of Amarillo.

The rally is to be given as a chance for Eisenhower supporters to get acquainted with each other, according to George Shannon, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Guest of honor, along with Senator Goldwater will be Pete La-Master, of Perryton, candidate for the GOP nomination as representative from the 18th District.

Invitations have been sent to Eisenhower supporters in all counties in the district and to communities in the neighboring states, according to Shannon.

The rally is being planned by Republicans of the 18th District. Anyone interested in attending the dinner and rally may obtain tickets before April 12, from George Shannon, 312 Fisk Building, Amarillo, Texas.

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

People are wonderful and if you don't believe it just try working with them instead of pulling against them for a change and you'll see what we mean. This brings to mind one of those corny sayings heard a few years back. That is, the thing that makes people contrary is people.

We've got one of those "birdie told me" sayings this week. This particular saying is to the effect that Joe Frank of Umbarger is a very valuable member of the American Heritage Project. We recall Joe telling us of an airplane trip he took a couple of years ago. On the trip he made it a point to try to talk with the common people of the places he visited. The trip was down through Mexico and South America, and during the flight some of the other men on the trip mentioned to Joe that they talked to the important people and tried to get him to string along with them. Joe's philosophy was that the janitor of an organization deserved a kind word and a friendly chat just the same as the president. That attitude is the undisputable mark of a really big person.

District Clerk Ethel Mullins got moved into her new home last week. Like most owners of new homes she is going to be some time in getting settled down and everything straightened out. She said when they signed the final papers on the place that they almost got some property signed over to her that she knew nothing about. Perhaps it was that dust that came over a few weeks ago, a lot of real estate was shifting positions about that time.

Dennis Wilkins sort of had the fishing fever last week but couldn't get out to the pond to wet a line. The story was out that sand bass were striking at Possum Kingdom in a terrific manner to all fishermen using a certain kind of bait. The popular bait of the day was miracle minnows and sports stores that didn't have this kind of bait were said to have just been out of luck. Kenny Goodman got off to do some fishing down there. He should have some excellent fish stories to tell when he comes back from down there.

It seems that the weather and the weather man are having a hard time of getting together. When the weather man says wind and sand lately, it seems like that is our best chance to have some really nice weather. Even modern science can't produce instruments that will make weather prediction accurate here.

An interesting bit of information was picked up last week concerning the license number of Luther Hagard's car. It's AZ-1932, all you have to do is think about the Democrats who went in power in 1932 and until 1952 ruled the government from A to Z. Yes sir, it's a mighty easy number to remember whether you're a Democrat or a Republican.

Time to pause for a smile or quit reading with a frown, whichever you do when you come to the nonsense of the column.

It's impossible for a woman to be married to the same man for 50 years. After the first 25, he's not the same man.

It takes two to make a quarrel and the same number to get married.

It's easy to be brave from a safe distance.

The gabby woman stood in an open door and saying, "There was something I wanted to say, now what was it?"

The small daughter of the hostess spoke up and said, "Maybe it was goodbye."

New Directions on Social Security At Amarillo Office

A new pamphlet on estimating retirement and survivors payments under the Social Security Act is available at the Amarillo Social Security office. J. R. Sanderson, manager of that office, says this booklet will be helpful to persons planning retirement and to younger persons who need such information in planning their personal insurance programs.

Sanderson points out that in computing the amount of social security payments a person's average monthly earnings is figured over the whole time since the program started in 1937 and also over the shorter period starting January 1, 1951. Whichever is higher is the figure which is used. This figure is converted into the amount of the social security payment by a formula which is explained in the booklet. It should be noted that all of the time must be used in arriving at the average earnings, not just the time a person may have been working in covered employment.

Anyone wishing a copy of this free booklet may obtain it at the field office in the new post office building, by telephoning that office at 6-6386, or by asking for it in a letter or post card. Just ask for the booklet on estimating social security payments or simply for booklet number 30.

Projected Free World Nickel Production Capacity

Based upon announced expansion programs, the production capacity of the nickel industry of the free world by 1960 should be at least 75 per cent greater than that existing in 1949, the year prior to the start of the Korean conflict, when production of nickel totalled about 265,000,000 pounds.

PRODUCTION OFF

Industrial production dropped about 1.5 per cent in February, by seasonal standards, for the seventh straight month, according to a Federal Reserve Board report. This decline brought seasonally adjusted output at the nation's mines and factories to a level 10.2 per cent below the all-time peak registered last May and equally in July.

MAIL RATE INCREASE

The railroads of the nation have been granted a ten per cent increase in the rates paid them by the Government for handling the United States mails by the Interstate Commission Commission. The increase is retroactive to last October and will give the rail industry about $32,500,000 a year additional revenue.
